ABOUT ME

Ashley Támar Davis is a multi-hyphenate artist whose artistry spans music, performance, education, and creative leadership. Emerging from Houston's High School for the Performing and Visual Arts, she studied Music Business at USC Thornton, earning prestigious honors and setting a foundation for a boundary-breaking career. As Prince's muse and co-writer of the Grammy-nominated "Beautiful, Loved and Blessed", Támar toured worldwide and gained international recognition. She has translated that acclaim into dynamic Broadway roles—including Motown the Musical, A Night with Janis Joplin, Waitress, and featured performances in Tyler Perry's theatrical productions. Her television presence includes standout performances on The Voice (Season 10), vocal work on Disney's The Proud Family: Louder and Louder (2025), CBS Beyond the Gates, and music supervision roles across Netflix, Hulu, HBO Max, and more. With three studio albums and hundreds of global performances, her voice and vision resonate internationally. Offstage, Ashley Támar is a force for empowerment. As founder of Syren Entertainment and Media Group and Syren Arts Academy, co-creator of the Támar Davis Project, Támar Talks Podcast, DocFest, and teen summits, she nurtures the next generation of artists and entrepreneurs, ever rooted in integrity and innovation. ~ Ashley Támar EPK 2025

Regardless of Prince's past choices, his newest protégé will sweep you off your feet with her soulful voice, sultry demeanour and magnetic stage presence. Right from the start, Támar performed like an industry veteran. Prince was to Tamar's right as he let his fingers flow freely across the frets for close to two hours. One song into the show, it was evident that Tamar has all the makings to be a star. She lit up the stage as she prowled across it with confidence ~

PRESS

"Támar Davis is equipped with a powerful voice and saucy showmanship"

Philadelphia News

A fleet-footed dancer as well as a skilled singer, Ashley Tamar Davis, in her first Lyric show, practically made time stop with her romantic rendition of the timeless ballad "Keepin' Out of Mischief Now."

The Oklahoman

She has an authoritative voice that commands attention, like Aretha Franklin's or Annie Lennox's. And she can wrap her notes in emotion and make the glide like a torch singer.

Houston Chronicle

It took Tamar barely five minutes to crack the sold-out crowd. She's got a magnificent and powerful voice, but unlike the vast majority of post-Whitney/Mariah soul singers, she's also a true entertainer with a fully developed stage presence. She's sassy and sexy, but also able to laugh at herself, a trait sorely missing from a genre filled with dour, overly serious women.

LA Times

Támar has the voice that can fill three football stadiums and the moves of Tina Turner.
